

JUNE 11, 2009

TRIPLE NEGATIVE BREAST CANCER FOUNDATION

The Triple Negative Breast Cancer Foundation (TNBC) hosted the "Peace, Love and a Cure" annual cocktail reception at the Alpine home of Malaak Compton-Rock. The Norwood-based foundation's mission is to raise awareness of the disease and support scientists and researchers in efforts to determine causes, develop detection and diagnosis procedures, pursue prevention and achieve effective treatment.

Annie Hausmann, event co-host and TNBC events director; and Romy Jagid, member, event committee

Lois Greene, RNC, board president, Susan B. Komen for the Cure North Jersey; Susan Carter Johns, vice president, chief of staff, Susan B. Komen for the Cure; Marianne Alciati, managing executive director for Research and Scientific Operations, Susan B. Komen for the Cure; and Casey Tolson, development specialist, Susan B. Komen Foundation

TNBC Trustees: Jennifer Sweetwood, Sharon Fredman, Hayley Dinerman, Allison Axenrod, Andrea Maline and Beth Eimbinder

Lori Stokes, co-anchor for Eyewitness News This Morning and Eyewitness News at Noon; and Malaak Compton-Rock, TNBC trustee and event hostess

Dawn Spencer, president and founder, Hug Me Foundation; with Soledad O'Brien, anchor and special correspondent for CNN Worldwide